Mayor Plans Sessions on Redevelopment, Drafthouse

San Marcos Mayor Susan Narvaiz will host a public education forum on economic development, the redevelopment of Springtown Shopping Center and the Alamo Drafthouse proposal on Saturday, February 27 at 10 a.m. at City Hall.

The public is invited to attend. The session will be held at the City Council Chambers at City Hall, 630 E. Hopkins. This is the first of several educational sessions planned by Mayor Narvaiz in the next few weeks.

“We want to have community discussions on the big picture of economic development in San Marcos,” said Mayor Narvaiz. “The City Council’s goal is to support economic development that improves our economy and creates jobs. This briefing will give us the opportunity to discuss issues associated with redevelopment—including the impact if redevelopment doesn’t happen.”

The briefing will include information on past economic development initiatives, what redevelopment involves, and Springtown Center proposals.

At its last meeting February 16, the City Council tabled a $2.5 million incentive proposal to locate Alamo Drafthouse Cinema at Springtown Center. Negotiations are continuing on the proposal.

The information session is not a formal City Council meeting and no decisions will be made.

The meeting has been posted by the City Clerk for a potential City Council quorum.
